

The #WeMatterAtWork Card Game: A template to record your findings

The #WeMatterAtWork game is designed to prompt reflection and discussion about the qualities and characteristics that make us feel valued at work. To support your learning and development via the game, we've put together a template which you can use to record your findings and make a note of any actions which come out as a result of your discussions. If you're an IoIC member, remember that you can also claim CPD hours for the facilitation of your discussion and, where appropriate, for sharing what you have learnt, either by letting us know that you'd like to publicly share your findings via your completed template or by writing your findings up for a blog or thought piece.

Name:
Team:
Date:

Key findings from our #WeMatterAtWork discussion:

My team most appreciate the following qualities:

My team would like to see more of the following qualities from their colleagues/our leaders/the organisation:

People would like to see more of the following qualities in our internal comms:

As a result of our #WeMatterAtWork discussion, I/my team will: